Seven new galleries to discover at Art Basel Miami Beach 2024

They hail from a diverse range of cultural ecosystems, including Germany's Rhineland, South Korea's bustling capital, and the Pacific Northwest

All great artists have a voice of their own, and the same is true of the galleries that champion them. This year, Art Basel Miami Beach will feature more new galleries than at any point since 2008. Taking place from December 6–8, 2024, at the Miami Beach Convention Center, the fair will welcome 34 first-time participants, an eclectic group hailing from across the Americas, Europe, and Asia. Below are seven of those galleries and the exciting work they will showcase, bringing even greater diversity to the show.

ILY2 (Survey sector, Portland, US)

The alternative gallery ILY2 operates out of a mall in Portland, Oregon, taking a deeply subversive approach to retail in the arts. Focusing on feminist art and artists, ILY2's presentation at the fair will feature American artist Bonnie Lucas. Lucas spent decades hand-sewing abstract, low-relief assemblages from sewing tools and dollar-store items. These assemblages are at once girly, provocative, and kitschy – functioning as both critiques and celebrations of consumer goods and their relationship to femininity.
